15th Assembly race

Puccio appeals for campaign spending limit

Republican Assembly candidate Guy Puccio of Castro Valley is again seeking to implement a spending limitation for the leading campaign up to the March 4 15th Assembly District election.

Puccio is calling on his opponents, Democrat Floyd Mori of Pleasanton and American Independent Party candidate Lonnie Moore of Hayward to limit their spending to $25,000.

In letters to the candidates, Puccio is also urging the adoption of other "campaign reforms, including a personal campaign contribution limitation not to exceed $500, a group contribution ceiling of $5,000, and rotating name positioning on the ballot."

Puccio attempted to implement a similar limitations during the campaign for the Feb. 4 primary election but was unsuccessful.

Following the Feb. 4 election, Mori said he was opposed to such a special agreement because he did not believe it was necessary in view of the laws in existence which govern campaign expenditures.

In addition, Mori noted both he and Puccio spent around $10,000 in th primary but, he added, when Puccio opposed the late Carlos Bee last November, "he spent around $40,000. I would be very happy to have a $75,000 total limit," Mori said, while emphasizing, "I certainly don't plan to spend that much."

He added, "If we're going to talk about limits, let's talk about the whole thing. I've spent $10,000 in the last month and he's spent $50,000 in the last six months for exposure. That's not equity."

He again emphasized, "We don't need an agreement. There is no problem as far as I am concerned. I trust myself and I trust him."

Puccio said he is still "optimistic" Mori will agree to the spending limit "this time around" and noted that Moore has "already agreed to the reform proposals in principle."

Puccio said he believes political reform would be a "major issue" during the campaign.

"Without a public guarantee of honesty in government, without a full commitment to political reform from the very start," he said, "I don't see how we can expect to deal effectively with any of the problems confronting us today."

Puccio also said he believed the voters are tired of a "money-power game" of politics and added, Money doesn't determine the quality of any candidate. People are looking for representatives who have the energy and ability to deal effectively with the problems of the day, who understand the unique requirements of the local area. The ability to spend large sums of money during a campaign doesn't play into this."

City eyes purchase of historic adobe

PLEASANTON — While not ruling out acquisition of the Kottinger Adobe on Ray Street, the city council Monday night approved allocation of its Federal Housing and Community Development money to two other projects.

Director of Housing and Community Development John Bowling told the council the city could amend its application for that $221,000 but added, time was of the essence and the application had to be made to maintain the city's eligibility for the funds.

The staff has recommended the money be spent on replacement of water mains in the Harris Acres tract, which has been plagued with low water pressure over the years, and on the extension of Peters Avenue from Division Street to Rose Avenue.

Jim Trimingham and Herbert Hagemann, representing the Livermore - Amador Valley Historical Society, made a plea Monday night to convince the council to use a portion of that money for acquisition and restoration of the adobe built by John Kottinger in 1852.

Trimingham told the council the historical society had tried to purchase the adobe 10 years ago but they could not come up with the necessary $45,000.

Hagemann, who is the great grandson of Kottinger, said the structure is "probably the last remnant of early government buildings" in Pleasanton. Kottinger, who was the first justice of the peace in the township, used the building as a justice court and a jail.

Trimingham said, "we think this is important. If we have to get a lot of grass roots support, we will do it."

Councilman Bill Herlihy said he believed acquisition of the structure is "a worthwhile project to pursue." He asked the representatives of the historical society, however, to prepare a report for the city detailing, "how you would intend to use the building and how you would support it."

At present, the city's application for its federal funds, which will become available over a three year period, states simply that the money will be used for "public facilities." If acquisition of the Kottinger barn appears feasible, the council may move to allocate some of the money for that purpose.

Longview EIR under planning debate

PLEASANTON — Staff is recommending the planning commission deny a tentative tract map for Dr. Howard Long's 50-acre Longview subdivision because the environmental impact report prepared for that development is "incomplete."

The commission will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Pleasanton Justice Court preceded by the Board of Adjustments at 7:15 p.m. and the Design Review Board at 7:30 p.m.

The staff report to the commission indicates Long went ahead and submitted an EIR to the city for the project, even though "he had received no official notification of such a requirement." That EIR, according to the report, "does not comply with state law in that it contains no discussion of energy conservation methods to be employed in the development of the project."

Because of that omission and because staff believes the commission would not have "the necessary information before (it) to make an appropriate review of the consequences which the project would have on the environment," they are recommending denial of the tentative track map.

The commission will also consider an application from Randy Hadley and Hank Cupples for a conditional use permit to allow automob le repairing, overhauling and rebuilding at 1809 Santa Rita Rd., an application from Kaiser Sand and Gravel to operate a portable asphaltic concrete plant at 3311 Stanley Blvd. and a referral from the city council regarding the request of Richard Burge for a second story on a commercial building on Valley Avenue.

The 1975-76 capital improvements program for the city will also be reviewed by the commission Thursday night.

School records law clarified

Valley school officials now have their copies of a new law guaranteeing parents' access to their children's school records.

According to a state law passed last summer and a federal law passed Dec. 31, funding will be denied to any public school system where a parent or a student 18 or older is refused the right to examine the file of health records, test results, grades, schoolwork samples and assorted comments which follows a child through the school system.

School officials in the Livermore, Amador, Murray, Pleasanton Elementary and San Ramon school districts have said it has been their approach for years to open their school records to parents and, through counselors, even to students who want to know what kind of picture their teachers and principals have been painting of them over the years.

In most cases, they find a fairly innocuous record of grades, absences, immunizations and similar material. One item almost sure to be of interest is the IQ, which is usually obtained by a group test when the child reaches an upper elementary grade and is not as precise as an individual IQ test. (It's questionable whether IQ assesses intelligence accurately at all, according to many educational experts.)

According to the new law, personal notes made by teachers and administrators are not part of the "record" which must be shown to parents.

Parents and eligible students must be notified each year how and where they can get a look at their records. Copies of the documents must be available to the parents at cost.

Both federal and state regulations require that parents be granted a hearing if they claim their child's records are inaccurate, misleading or inappropriate.

The hearings may be over an improper recording of a child's grade, but if a parent contends a child should have received a higher grade, their complaint is not handled through the same channels.

One intention of the new law is to allow parents to review materials which led to a school decision to label a child mentally defective or retarded and put into a special class. Parents could seek professional assistance in determining whether the school's assessment of the child's problems is accurate.

Hand in hand with the new access law is a provision which prevents the schools from handing out a child's records to juvenile court, welfare and police departments and other agencies.

Only certain authorized school personnel now have the right to see the files. The material can be released under court order or with the written consent of the parent or the student who is 18 or over.

Certain items of "directory information" including a listing of names, addresses and school activities of students, may be released to a third party unless specifically prohibited by a parent or a student 18 or over.

The new law does not prohibit destruction of old records. Usually, districts retain only the transcript of a high - school graduate and destroy the other files some time after graduation.

The new law does not apply to public or private schools which do not receive federal funds.

LAFCO to decide on park boundaries

HAYWARD — The Local Agency Formation Commission is expected to make a decision on the future boundaries of the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District Thursday afternoon.

LAFCO will meet at 3 p.m. Thursday in the Alameda County Public Works Building, 399 Elmhurst St.

Although the majority of residents in the LARPD reside in the City of Livermore, the encompass a much greater area. They extend west to Pleasanton, north to the Contra Costa County line, east to the San Joaquin County line and south to the Santa Clara County line.

Last year, LAFCO drastically reduced the sphere of influence boundaries of the City of Livermore by removing the 9,000-acre Las Positas Valley from that sphere.

LAFCO is now considering a drastic reduction in the LARPD sphere of influence boundaries to make them coterminus with the city's sphere boundaries. LAFCO has also suggested the LARPD be dissolved and its functions be assumed by the city.

The other alternative contained in the LAFCO report is to retain the park district's boundaries as they are.

Th LAFCO report notes that "establishment of a sphere less than the existing boundary would coincide with present LAFCO policy" since approximately 68 percent of the district's 156,800 acres is presently included within agricultural preserves.

LAFCO policy states, "Land in agricultural preserves" shall be ordinarily excluded from the sphere of influence of any city or special district."

If the area outside the city sphere is also removed from the LARPD sphere, however, the report states, it "could have a significant impact upon the district's assessed value" and consequently, its operating revenue.

OAKLAND — A hearing has been set for Feb. 25 in Alameda County Superior Court to consider the City of Livermore's request that the county supervisors' action paving the way for New Town be declared invalid.

The city also is seeking an injunction halting the supervisors from further action on Harlan Geldermann's development in the Las Positas Valley.

The suit, filed by the City of Livemore against the Alameda County Board of Supervisors yesterday, asks the court to declare the supervisors' Dec. 19 approval of a General Plan amendment invalid.

Planners to consider Central district plan

LIVERMORE — What does the planning commission think about the preparation of a specific plan for the city's central district, the city manager wants to know.

Commissioners will consider City Manager Bill Parness' query at 7:30 p.m. tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave.

In a memo to the planning commission, Parness notes that a specific plan for the central business district "seems an obvious step in our current planning efforts following the general plan study now underway and also due to the major public works improvement now under construction in the downtown area."

He was referring to the $100,000 general plan study currently being prepared by Grunwald, Crawford Associates of Hanford and the almost $4 million grade separation, or railroad relocation project.

The last project, which will allow traffic to flow uninterrupted under the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific Railroads tracks on N. Livermore Avenue and P Street, also is intended to open up additional commercial property.

The project is being funded through state funds, mandatory financial assistance from the railroads and an assessment district of those businesses who stand to profit from the project.

Among the various other city council referrals and application requests to be reviewed by the commission tonight is a conditional use permit request for a flight strip and parachute drop area adjacent to 2747 N. Livermore Ave.

The site is north and south of Hartford Road and east of N. Livermore Avenue.

The application, by California Diversified Properties (the land owners) and California Parachute Club, Inc., was referred to the city by the Alameda County zoning administrator.

The city staff is recommending that the commission approve the application on the condition that off-street parking be provided (for both parachutists and spectators) and that the permit be granted for no longer than five years.

This last condition is because the city's General Plan proposes the area for residential development. However, such use is not expected for another 10 to 15 years.

March of Dimes

3000 expected for walkathon

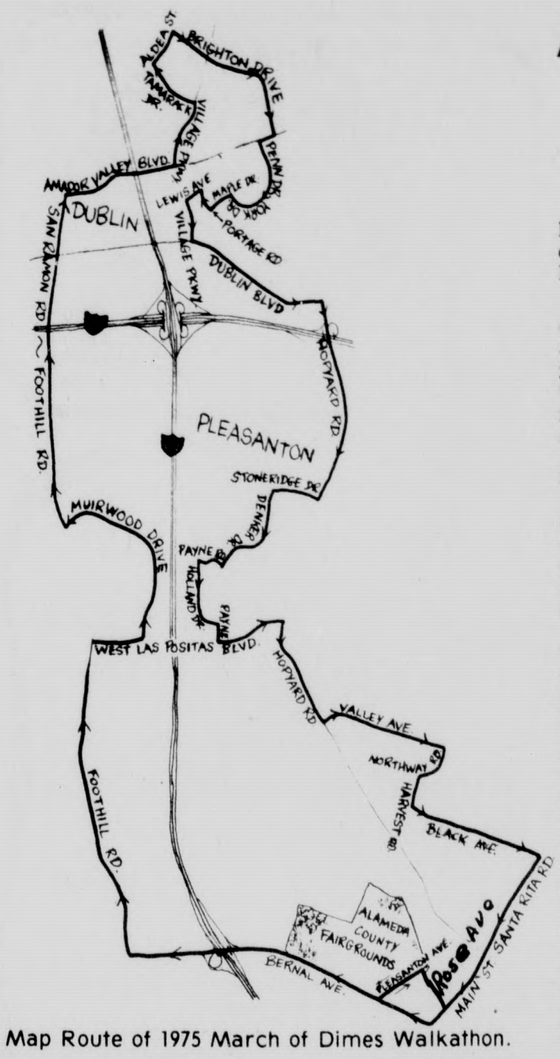
A mere 7500 cups of McDonald orange juice was consumed on the 1974 March of Dimes Walkathon.

This same amount plus is expected again this year with an estimate of approximately 3,000 walkers taking part in the Walkathon to be held on Saturday, March 8, starting at 8 a.m. with the last walker leaving the starting point at the Fairgrounds at 9 a.m.

The 20 mile scenic walk through Pleasanton and Dublin will be led by Mayor Floyd Mori of Pleasanton, Mayor Pro Tem Archer Futch of Livermore and Oakland Raider Dan Connors.

An organizational meeting was held at Hap's Restaurant on Monday with Chris Beratlis, community co-chairmen leading the discussion.

Coordinating details of the walk was Pam Ovlen of Oakland, assisted by Deb Ketron of Oakland. Again this year, participants will enjoy cool orange juice from McDonalds at the halfway point, Cronin School, Dublin, and at the end, the Fairgrounds. An added feature this year will be a soft drink or water available at each check point. Foster's Freeze also will be passing out a free soft drink at their stores on the route.



Map Route of 1975 March of Dimes Walkathon.

Providing communications between checkpoints will be the Radio Club, Voice of the Valley, with 15 units and approximate 40 persons involved. This will be the third year the Club has furnished communications on the walk. Mike Cleary of KNBR radio will be broadcasting from Pleasanton the day of the walk. The Alameda-Contra Costa Podiatry Association will provide footcare at checkpoints along with a mobile van at the Fairgrounds.

The U.S. Army Reserves will be manning checkpoints. The Pleasanton Police Department, along with the Alameda County Sheriff's Department, will be providing reserve officers as they feel necessary.

Doing a job "not too glamorous but necessary" will be the Hightailers Dune Buggy Club picking up litter after the walkers. Walkers are asked to look for and use trash boxes which will be placed throughout the walk to help the Dune Buggy crew with their job.

Check points will be: Foothill High School, Muirwood Park, Kolb Park, Cronin Park (half way point), Val Vista Park, Nature Park, Amador Valley Community Park and the Fairgrounds, end of walk.

All walkers from last year were sent sponsor sheets, however additional sheets are available at McDonald's, Dublin or Livermore, schools or by calling 836-2267.

A ten speed bike donated by Wheelways Bicycle Center in San Ramon, will be the prize of the day by a drawing.

Further information on the walk may be obtained by contacting Chris Beratlis at 846-4400.

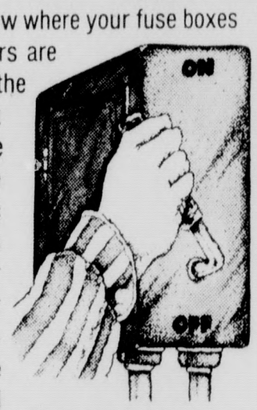
Put these tips and some spare fuses near your fuse box.

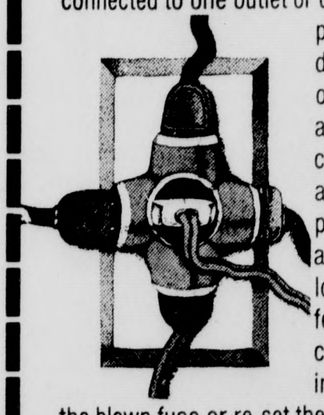
With a flashlight, they may help should your lights go out.

Be Prepared. Know where your fuse boxes or circuit breakers are located. Locate the main switch box—usually near the spot where the PG&E electric service wires connect to your house, or near your PG&E electric meter. Locate any additional box or boxes—usually in a closet or utility room. Keep spare fuses handy.

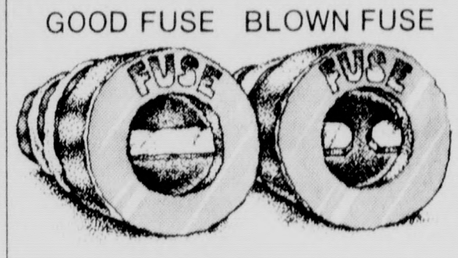


Check the Neighbors. If your lights should go out, check to see if other homes in your neighborhood have lights. If the power is off in your home only, you may have a blown fuse or tripped circuit breaker.

Determine the Cause. Blown fuses or tripped circuit breakers are often caused by having too many lamps or appliances connected to one outlet or circuit. Another possibility is a defective cord on a lamp or appliance. To check, unplug all lamps or appliances on the affected circuit, looking for defective plugs or cords while doing so. Replace the blown fuse or re-set the tripped circuit breaker, following the procedures given below. Then plug each lamp or appliance back in. A defective one will cause the fuse to blow, or circuit breaker to trip, again.



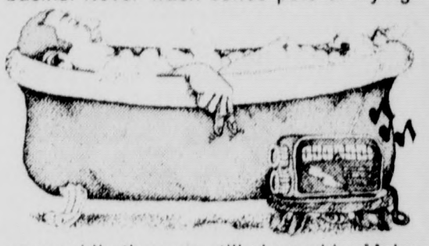
To Replace a Fuse. First turn the main switch to "OFF." Make sure that your hands are dry and that you are standing on a dry surface. Look for the "blown" fuse; the "window" may be blackened, or there may be a visible gap in the fuse element. Replace the blown fuse with one of the proper amperage rating, usually one of not more than 15-20 amps. Never use a penny or other metal object to "bridge" the blown fuse, as this could cause a house fire. Turn the main switch to "ON." If only part of the lights in the house come on, this may indicate that a fuse in a branch fuse box has also blown. Check these fuses in the same way you checked the fuses at the main switch.



Cartridge Fuses. Be sure the main switch is "OFF" while you are changing cartridge fuses. You won't be able to visually tell exactly which cartridge fuse is blown. In this case, test by safely replacing each fuse with a new one until you find the blown fuse.

To Reset a Circuit Breaker. A tripped circuit breaker will probably be out of the "ON" position. Move the affected circuit breaker handle all the way to the "OFF" position (for some circuit breakers, a moderate pressure in the "OFF" direction is necessary to cause them to reset). Then, move the handle to the "ON" position. If the affected circuit breaker does not indicate that it has tripped (its handle has not moved from the "ON" position), and you do not know which circuit breaker controls the affected circuit, try resetting all circuit breakers.

Some Added Safety Tips. Never plug in electrical appliances near bathtubs or basins. Never wash coffee pots or frying pans while they are still plugged in. Make sure that electric tools are properly grounded (with a 3-prong plug), or are of the U.L. approved "double-insulated" type. When you unplug an appliance, pull the plug—not the cord.



Still in the Dark? If you've followed all of these procedures and you're still in the dark, don't hesitate to call PG&E. We'll be happy to help.

Chiropractor joins school board race

Dr. Raymond Serafin, a chiropractor with offices in Pleasanton, is one of five seeking two seats on the Pleasanton Joint Elementary School District board in the March 4 elections.

Serafin, 38, and his family have resided in Pleasanton for the past 10 years. All four children are elementary school age and attend Valley View and Pleasanton Elementary.

A graduate of the Cleveland Chiropractic School in Kansas City, Mo., Serafin has been active in community affairs but is making his initial bid for elective office. He has served on the General Plan Review Committee.

Serafin believes that effective communication between school board members, the administration and teachers is of crucial importance. He feels that a rapport must be established before board members can proceed to working out problems of administration and curriculum.

The two seats up for election in March are those of Joseph Schwab, a Pleasanton attorney, and Dr. Geraldine Donaldson, present school board president. Dr. Donaldson is running for a position on the Amador Valley Joint High School District board.

Schwab is seeking reelection. Also campaigning are Betty Nostrand, Jack Pearson and Alfred Thome.

Pacific duty

Marine Lance Corporal Thomas R. Johnson, son of Mrs. Peggy J. Johnson of 2320 Willet Way, Pleasanton has left Okinawa on a deployment in the Western Pacific area as a member of the 2d Battalion, 4th Marine Regiment.

The battalion, embarked aboard ships of the U.S. Seventh Fleet, will conduct amphibious training exercises in the Philippine Islands.

RAYMOND SERAFIN

Dollard: the youngest hopeful

Douglas V. Dollard, a 29-year old instructor at the San Lorenzo School District's vocational school, is the youngest candidate for any school board in the valley.

A resident of Oak Brook Court in Pleasanton, Dollard is one of four hopefuls for two Amador Valley Joint High School District board seats. He and his wife, Karen, a former school teacher in Illinois, are parents of a three-year old son.

Dollard believes that school boards are "too far removed from the practical needs of the community."

A graduate of Florida Atlantic University in Boca Raton, Fla., with a B.A. in political science, Dollard is presently working towards a masters at the University of California in Berkeley.

He is currently a board member of the Pleasanton Meadows Homeowners Association and representative to the California Teachers Association. Dollard notes that he has given lectures for the Bureau of Business Education on distributive education in California and through this feels he has become familiar with many of the challenges confronting education today.

"One of the first issues I see as needing to be dealt with is the process by which the problems of our educational system are going to be met," states Dollard.

"School administrations, perhaps inevitably, provide environments in which administrators involuntarily grow stale and unproductive in their insulated positions. If we are to stretch our tax dollars to pay administrative salaries, in some cases in excess of $20,000, we should have some assurance that those administrators are worth the expenditures when hired, and earn them during their periods of employment," Dollard continues.

"There ought to be some simplistic mechanism of accountability, or at least a vehicle through which administrative challenges can be provided which offer insight or stimulus to those administrators caught up in repetitious functions. This is not to single out administrators as they are certainly no worse, nor better, than any cross section of citizens, but it is a fact of life that it is easy to grow stale in comfortable, insulated and secure positions. If we fail to adequately supervise those who are responsible for the educational institutions for which we are required to pay, then the blame for their failure to deal with events rests with us and not with them," Dollard concludes.

Also seeking seats on the Amador board are incumbents Charles Beazley and Mayo Miller and Dr. Geraldine Donaldson, now president of the Pleasanton Joint Elementary School District board.

Airport committee meets

LIVERMORE — History of fuel price charges at the Livermore Municipal Airport — as well as the fuel status — will be discussed at the Airport Committee meeting today at noon.

The committee will meet at The Rancher on Rincon Avenue. It usually meets the first Monday of the month but during February had to meet today.

Also to be discussed at the this afternoon is the status of the airport master plan and land use study and west clear zone purchase.

Listed as agenda items are information on airport operations in the FAA's Western Region; the FBO's first appeal on the city's requirement of CPA audits, and a report by the committee on the feasibility of a non-directional beacon for the airport.

Election Notes

Engelund bids for re-election

LIVERMORE — School board candidate Ken Engelund has praise for parents who attended a meeting last week in the Sunset II area to participate in the planning for a new school there.

"Parents at the Wednesday meeting showed a keen interest in their children and the school program and learned that since 1973 the board and administration have planned parent involvement in this school program and building design," Engelund, who is current Livermore Unified School District president, said in a recent news release.

Engelund added, "Superintendent Croce was thorough in explaining how parents will meet with the architect who will be paid with funds from the successful building election March 4. Trustees (Demetra) Wilson, (Manuel) Prado and Engelund and several administrators attended with Croce to listen to parents and to emphasize the process of shared decision - making.

"As a candidate and board member, I am committed to the democratic process of all parents working with educators to shape school programs. Citizen involvement will give us school programs which parents and taxpayers will support."

KEN ENGELUND

LLL engineer seeks PESD seat

Jack W. Pearson, 52, an administrative engineer at the Lawrence Livermore Laboratory, is making his initial bid for elective office by seeking a seat on the Pleasanton Joint Elementary School District board.

Pearson, his wife Anne, and five children, have resided in Pleasanton for seven years. He holds a B.S. from the University of Chicago, and through the Continuing Education Program of the LLL, is enrolled as a degree candidate in the Graduate School of Administration of the University of California.

Until recently, Pearson served on a citizen's advisory committee studying purposes and goals for elementary curriculum guidance. Pearson is a resource volunteer for both the Pleasanton and Livermore school districts. He is presently a consultant to the State Department of Education and the State Legislative Assembly on measurement systems as taught in public schools.

Pearson says he believes the Pleasanton district has had responsible administration." There is, however, a need to reassess continually our schools' goals and curriculum emphasis," avers Pearson. "I was dismayed to learn recently that word has filtered back to textbook publishers from the nation's college campuses that large numbers of students cannot read the English language well enough to understand textbooks previously used by and understood by earlier generations of students.

"Because publishers see no hope of raising young people's reading ability, the publishers are lowering the comprehension level of their textbooks from the 12th to the 9th grade. At the University of California today, 45 per cent of the total student body need remedial English to equip them for college level study," Pearson contends.

"My work with a Pleasanton district goals committee showed the variety of education goals considered suitable for the attention of public schools. But we have limited resources. It is important that our limited resources are allocated to provide Pleasanton students with the most useful mix of education.

"Allocating district resources," continues Pearson, "is the responsibility of the district administration. As a board member, I would be sensitive to community and national education needs, to trends that show where curriculum emphasis should be adjusted . . . so that I can help the district administration identify and achieve its first order goals within the budget provided by the community."

Also contending for the two Pleasanton school board seats up for election March 4 are Dr. Raymond Serafin, Betty Nostrand, Alfred Thome and incumbent Joseph Schwab.

THE ROYAL COUPLE

CAPTAIN OF THE KREWE, DOUG RULEY, LED HIS MEN THROUGH THE CROWD

Enchanted evening

Mardi Gras 1975

OUTGOING KING ROBES NEW QUEEN

Cheers, screams and applause filled the ballroom at Castlewood Country Club Saturday night when Marcelline Mahern, general chairman of the 1975 Mardi Gras fund-raising campaign, announced the candidates had raised $19,025.29. Howard Hanson, father of candidate Tuny Dunkley, boosted this amount with a $500 donation to community projects which will benefit: The Pleasanton Youth, Inc., Pleasanton Emergency Fund and Amador High School Auditorium Fund.

The mood of excitement was set for the full-house crowd when Captain of the Krewe Doug Ruley led his costumed men into the ballroom, tossing gold-wrapped candy and multi-colored matchbooks.

The announcement of Peggy Shoemaker as Queen, and Walt Wood as King of the Mardi Gras raised the excitement to a peak.

The three queen candidates, Peggy Shoemaker, Portia Wade and Tuny Dunkley, collected two-thirds of the total funds. In addition, each raised more than any other candidate through the past four years.

Pleasanton Youth, Inc. will receive $3,680 of the funds collected, Pleasanton Emergency Relief Fund $1,000, and Amador High School Auditorium Fund the remainder.

The Pleasanton Junior Women's Club, sponsors of the event, will meet with high school officials to determine how the money will be spent for the auditorium, only indoor community facility with capacity to seat 650.

North bid this hand with all the delicacy of a charging rhinoceros, but no one can blame him for insisting on a slam after his partner opened the bidding with a spade.

South's first look at dummy suggested that maybe he should give up opening 10 high-card point hands. A second glance told him that everything was going to be all right.

Then he played low from dummy and ruffed, then led his three of clubs. This gave West his choice of ways to let South bring home the slam. Actually, he chose to duck. Dummy's queen of clubs won the trick, trumps were pulled with two leads and the king-eight of clubs discarded on the two high diamonds. South still had to lose a heart trick but he could afford it.

If West had hopped up with the ace of clubs South would have been able to discard one of dummy's low hearts on the king of clubs. He would have lost a trick to the ace of clubs but the heart loser would have vanished into thin air.

CARNIVAL by Dick Turner

"Not clean enough? What am I supposed to do, eat dinner or operate on somebody?"

SIDE GLANCES by Gill Fox

"Miss Wilks, I'd like Marie, here, to get your typewriter up to 50 words a minute — to burn out the sludge!"

Hansen out, but Mohatt still confident

Phil Hansen, or Job in sneakers, limped out of the Amador Valley High basketball lineup Friday night with a fractured ankle.

Though he is a three-year varsity veteran, an All-EBAL player and the finest shooter on the team, the Dons aren't seeking Red Cross emergency aid.

They still expect an EBAL championship and berths in two post-season tournaments, with their 6-4 guard watching in street clothes.

"On a team of individuals, an injury like this can be a catastrophe," coach Skip Mohatt said yesterday. "But on a team period — it shouldn't have a noticeable effect. And we've always tried to stress the team first."

Amador lost its co-captain in a rebound scuffle Friday during the third quarter of a game at Livermore High. Hansen was accidently kicked as he descended to earth, the blow fracturing a small bone on the outside of his ankle.

The blond senior departed for taping and managed to play the fourth period.

Sunday however doctors diagnosed the injury and locked the damaged ankle in a knee cast for six to eight weeks.

It was the crowning frustration for Hansen, who has survived an omnipresent groin injury, flu and strep throat this season.

The soft-spoken floor leader had finally overcome the other maladies when the axe fell again. In just three quarters at Livermore he scored 14 points, pulled down nine rebounds, and held Joe Volponi scoreless.

That followed a 16-point game against San Ramon the week before.

"I don't think any athlete can tell which will be his last game," Mohatt said. "But you should play every one so that you can't have any regrets. Phil certainly can't have any regrets over his career at Amador."

Hansen was an integral part of the Dons' undefeated EBAL championship team last year, and helped Amador to a second place finish the season before.

Though there are ample replacements for him, including Ed Costello and Jim Turner, the Dons do lose something in the trade.

"Phil always had the poise and determination, and we're going to miss that," Mohatt said. "He was our best perimiter shooter, and he was just coming around to give us the strength we needed there. He was the guy we looked to for anything key."

His abscence shouldn't alter Amador's chances for a second straight EBAL title. But the experience and shooting touch would have been vital for the Dons in the North Coast championship tournament, and then the Tournament of Champions.

That's assuming Amador wins the league crown and the corresponding tournament invitations.

Mohatt sounded less concerned with those goals however, than with the injury's effect on Hansen.

"To be injured now is a difficult thing for him to accept," Mohatt said. "I'm more concerned for him personally, than as a player."

At least four top basketball colleges have expressed interest in Hansen, Mohatt revealed. The injury, he added, should have no lasting effect on his career, according to the coach.

It had no immediate influence on Amador's place in the polls either. The Dons are rated second again this week, just two points behind leader Tech High of Oakland.

Dublin received honorable mention for the top. 15.

Inconspicuous Gaels have a shot

Dublin High is 5-2 in EBAL basketball, resting in second place, and has received honorable mention for the East Bay's top 15.

So for $5 and an autographed photo of the Roberson twins, name the rest of the Gaels' starting five for tonight's game with San Ramon in Dublin.

If you can't, don't fret.

Dublin may be one of the better teams you've never heard of.

The Gaels were picked by most people to be comfortably out of sight in the basketball race this season. And with Amador Valley's bid for another title, Dublin has been ignored.

Yet the Gaels are still within reach of first place. A couple of minor miracles and Dublin could slide by to a second championship in three years. It would be done with a lot of guys who don't get headlines. Sometimes they don't even make the box scores.

Playing almost incognito, Dublin nevertheless is capable of stopping anyone with a good defense and relentless board play.

Good enough, perhaps, to defeat Amador the next time around, coach Don Nelson says.

But Nelson realizes any fairy tale title hopes are predicated on Dublin's winning all its remaining games. And so he has immediate concerns.

"A lot of people have been kissing San Ramon off," Nelson says. "But they shouldn't do that. San Ramon can shoot.

"I've just got to get the kids to concentrate on them."

Even Nelson isn't positive on a starting lineup this evening Cliff Johnson will be the center, with Doug Adams at forward and Troy Roberson at guard. The other guard will be Dave Anderson or Randy Swiers. The forward will be Chuck Hatheway, or Troy's brother Rayford.

It is a typical Nelson dilemma. The talent is nearly equal, or as some Gael detractors would say, the lack of it is nearly equal. Nelson has heard the slams before.

"We're in a lot better shape than a lot of people thought we'd be," he emphasises. "I suppose a lot of schools have more individual talent — no, I don't know if I'd even say that. We don't have a lot of super shooters, but our kids really hustle."

Dublin has received good scoring in its last two games from Johnson, Adams and Swiers. The search is never-ending for the hot hand on a team full of frigid ones. But Nelson says Dublin is settling down offensively.

"The kids are taking good shots now," he says, "and hitting a good percentage. Very few times lately has a kid taken a bad one, or forced a shot."

Lifeblood of Dublin's existence is still its scrambling defense, and a prickly UCLA press. It is forcing turnovers and creating panic for the enemy.

"I don't care if we don't steal the ball everytime," Nelson says. "But we just try to create havoc, maybe force them to throw the ball away.",

It could be effective against San Ramon, a good shooting team, but a timid ball-handling one.

In the only other varsity action this evening, Livermore travels to Danville to face Monte Vista.

Harvest Park captures both ends of Hart tourney

Host school Harvest Park swept the First Annual Tom Hart Basketball Tournament last weekend at the Alameda County Fairgrounds in Pleasanton.

HP won the eighth grade event with a 52-39 thrashing of Castro Valley's A.B. Morris, and measured Tracy Elementary in the seventh grade tourney, 38-28.

This was the first in what is expected to be an annual junior high school classic honoring the late Pleasanton school administrator.

Harvest Park rolled to the eighth grade title thanks to Mike Chandler, who tied for game scoring honors, pumped in 15 points. Temmates David Kiske and Steve Hine added 13 and 12. Steve Englebuck was strong on the boards for the winners.

A.B. Morris' David Lazarus tied Chandler with 15 points.

Harvest Park led by just five at halftime, but pulled away in the second half

In the consolation game, John Muir of San Leandro defeated Pleasanton's St. Augustine's, 57-51.

Tony Borges paced the winners with 26 points. Joe Vieira added 15 and a slug of rebounds.

Brett Hall was St. Augustine's scoring leader with 19, and Dennis Miller added seven. Miller was outstanding on the boards.

Harvest Park took the seventh grade crown thanks to 10 points by Scott Kenney, nine by Mike Darley and eight by Creighton Kearns. Nate Kortan chipped in six points. Glenn Gunter and Jeff Henninger all played well.

In the seventh grade consolation contest, Mendenhall topped Nielsen, 43-21.

Jeff Baker topped the winners with eight points, and Rocky DeCafano added six.

Nielsen's Curt Huska scored a game-high 13 points.

Squirts' big upset

The Dublin Dirt Squirts scored a mind-bending upset of San Jose in under-10 State Cup soccer last weekend, winning 4-3 in overtime.

The San Jose team came to town with a 15-0-1 record, compared to the Squirts 0-15-1. But Dublin scored two goals in overtime periods to stay alive in State Cup action.

Steve Spruitt played well for the winners blocking six shots at goal. Dan Odjea, Billy Page, Jeff Hammond, Dave Madger and Mike LaViloett all played well.

Duff Harrold, Ian Tooze, pave Beglin and Rodney Scott scored goals for the winners. The Thunderbolts went into penalty kick overtime to top the Vinland Orioles of Fresno, 5-3.

Lenny Reyes, Terry Gaschk, Derek Mitchell, David Hawthorne and Steve Molz all scored for Dublin. Chris Edwards, Jim Gibbons and David Kiwinski were instrumental in the triumph.

Hampton gets 18 as 76ers trounce Blazers

Phil Hampton poured in 18 points as the 76ers drilled the Blazers, 26-10 in Dublin Youth Basketball Association action last week.

Gary Golisch chipped in four points for the 76ers, as did the Blazers' John Howlett.

The Lakers' received balanced scoring, headed by Pat Keller's six points, to clip the Sonics, 22-18. Matt Fisher, Matt Thompson and Bryan Mathews all had four points for the Lakers. The Sonics' Donny Galli was high scorer with 12 points.

Mike Gibbons' fourth-quarter free throw, the Capitols' only point in that Period, produced a 7-6 win over the Rockets. It was the lowest scoring game in league history. Joey Garlington had four of the Caps seven points.

The Knicks were shut out in the fourth period, but cashed in 20 points in the third quarter to beat the Bucks, 28-20. Kevin Earl scored 16 for Knicks to lead all scorers. All of his points came in the third stanza. Steve Badger and Jeff Roderick each had four points for the Knicks. Steve McFarland paced the Bucks with six points. Sean Collins and Danny Bynum each had four.

The Colonials went into overtime to defeat the Stars, 23-20. The game was tied at 18 after regulation play. Todd Vitale paced the winners with nine points, and Rich Johnson added eight. The Stars' Mollo Ford scored eight points, and David Snyder added four.

The Spirits blunted the Pacers, 24-4, allowing single field goals in the second and third quarters. Toby MacFarlane had 10 points for the winners. Mark Miller and Eric Hanson scored four points each. Lee Munson and Rich Walker had Pacer buckets.

Mike Major's 22 points sparked the Spurs to a 36-24 victory over the Tams. Ken Zimmerman chipped in eight points. Joe Gavoni topped the Tams with 12 points, and Ed Lopez, six.

The Cougars raced to a 10-point first quarter lead, and zipped by the Squires, 94-23. Jim Grant paced the Cougars with 22 points. Scott Tatman had 12, and Jack Stevens, eight. Leon Cunningham scored five for the Squires.

With every player scoring at least one field goal, the Nets thrashed the Conquistadors, 56-14. Kurt Huska topped the Nets with 12 points, and Danny Scott added 10. Keith Jones scored six for the Q's.

The Spartans received six points each from John Cit, Paul Mangini and John Nikischer to defeat the Dons, 28-25. The Dons' Chris Zika was high scorer with nine points.

The Bruins placed three players in double figures and thumped the Cardinals, 35-25. Kevin Brinker topped the Bruins with 11 points, and Jay McAllister added 10, as did Willie Langenhuizan. Jerry Fikes and Tom Dunlop each scored six points for the losers. Doug Daugherty and Kurt Vollbrecht each had four.

Lohmann wins 3, gets an A

Paul Lohmann won three races and recorded an A time for Athletics International at a B swim meet sponsored by the Livermore Aquacowboys.

Lohmann's outstanding time was in the 100-yard back stroke, a 1:13.6.

Brian Hickman tied for first in the 100 breast stroke, while Matt Hamm placed fourth, seventh and eighth in three events.

David Ruzicka finished second, third fourth, fifth and sixth in his races, and Diana Clark took a second in the 50 breast.
